NJSGA Caddie Scholarship Foundation Annual Report

APPLY FOR A CADDIE SCHOLARSHIP

The NJSGA Caddie Scholarship is available to graduating high school seniors and in-college students who have caddied at an NJSGA member club for at least two seasons. Full-time attendance as an undergraduate at an accredited institution that is a member of the Association of American Colleges and Universities is required.

Caddie Scholars are selected based on the length and quality of service as a caddie, financial need, and academic performance.

The application
2024-2025 is
October 31, 2023.

In 2022, we celebrated the 75th anniversary of the Caddie Scholarship Foundation. Since its establishment as the charitable arm of the NJSGA, the Foundation has awarded over $17 million in scholarships to more than 3,200 NJSGA Caddie Scholars. For the last academic year, we raised $1.2 million and awarded $687,450 in scholarships to 155 academically qualified caddies.

I want to express my gratitude to the NJSGA Board of Trustees and Executive Committee for their unwavering support of the Foundation over the years. It is also crucial to acknowledge Sheila and Mike Menendez, our indispensable Directors of Education. Their contribution is invaluable, and we couldn't have come this far without them.

Once again, I want to thank the Mary Reinhardt Stackhouse Foundation for its continued generosity with this year's donation of $95,000. As a result, we were able to award 20 Mary Reinhardt Stackhouse Scholarships.

Thanks to the generosity of the Kugler Family, the Norma and Sol Kugler Scholarship has been established for a deserving NJSGA Caddie Scholar.

The past year has been one of transition, with our Director, Bill King, retiring. I want to thank him for his dedication and service to the Foundation over the years. We welcome Jeff Knapp as he assumes the new position of Director of Development.

The NJSGA CSF and the Western Golf Association's Evans Scholarship Foundation continue to co-sponsor full-tuition and housing NJSGA/ Evans Scholarships to qualified caddies from New Jersey clubs. We are thrilled to work closely with the Evans Foundation in a joint fundraising initiative to establish the NJSGA/ Evans Scholarship House at Rutgers University. Last year, we awarded 19 full-tuition and housing NJSGA/ Evans Scholarships to New Jersey caddies. Three of these caddies are members of the inaugural Evans Class at Rutgers.

All of this has been possible because of your continued support and generosity. I want to express my deepest gratitude to all of you for giving deserving caddies an opportunity to change their lives. What greater impact can one leave to future generations!

Thank you again for a successful year.

Jeffrey Knapp, Director of Development

Jeffrey Knapp was appointed Director of Development of the Caddie Scholarship Foundation in July 2022. In this role he manages the Foundation's daily operations, fundraising initiatives, donor relations, stewardship, and alumni engagement. A graduate of the College of the Holy Cross with degrees in History and Spanish and Felician University with a Master's degree in Business Administration. Jeffrey has spent 20 years as a fundraiser at private, college preparatory schools and universities in New Jersey, where he managed annual fund and capital campaigns, alumni relations, special events, stewardship programs, scholarship funds, communications, and databases. When not enjoying a round at his home club, Forest Hill Field Club, he can be found enjoying the laidback lifestyle of the Jersey Shore.

It was another great year for the Caddie Scholarship Foundation. Through the generous support of individuals, corporations, and foundations over $1.2 million was raised, enabling the Foundation to provide scholarships to 155 young men and women. Total contributions continue to increase year after year and donations to the Par Club, the lifeblood of the Foundation, have grown steadily over the years.

For 75 years the Caddie Scholarship Foundation has recognized the hard work and determination of young men and women on the golf course and in the classroom with scholarships to attend some of the country's top colleges and universities. Our scholars currently attend 86 different colleges and universities across the country. You will find them at academic institutions from Piscataway to San Diego. Having spent time visiting with them this year, I'm proud to say that they are thriving and achieving remarkable success. They are mature, confident, articulate, and poised to make a difference in the world immediately upon graduation.

Your support of the Foundation directly benefits these young men and women. They are the ultimate beneficiaries of your generosity. You are helping to make their dreams of a college education a reality. Every scholarship that is awarded has a direct, lasting, and positive impact upon the lives of these young man and women. The Foundation would not be able to fulfill its mission without your generosity and for that I humbly say, "Thank you."

From its very humble beginnings in 1947, the Caddie Scholarship Foundation has given the gift of education to over 3,200 young men and women who are now leaders in the legal, medical, financial, education, and public service communities. Your thoughtfulness and kindness has not only preserved one of golf's greatest traditions, but it has positively impacted hundreds of thousands of lives.

On behalf of the Caddie Scholarship Foundation and our current scholars, thank you for all that you do to "keep the caddie in golf."

Celebrating a Distinguished Career

It was 1974. Blazing Saddles was the box office blockbuster. Barbara Streisand's "The Way We Were" topped the Billboard 100. Gary Player added a second green jacket from Augusta to his wardrobe. Hale Irwin won the first of his three U.S. Open titles in historic fashion, posting a +7 for the tournament dubbed "the massacre at Winged Foot." Gerald Ford moved into the White House following Richard Nixon's resignation amid the Watergate scandal. In September of that year, a freshman from Verona High School, Brian O'Toole, arrived at Essex Fells Country Club after his first day of high school to caddie and work part-time shining shoes in the men's locker room, an opportunity provided to him by long-time Essex Fells head golf professional, Russ Helwig, a lifelong friend who always referred to Brian as "the cog" that drove everything at Essex Fells. Thus began a tenure at Essex Fells that, unbeknown to him, would span five decades.

The O'Toole Family has woven itself deep into the fabric that is the rich tapestry of Essex Fells Country Club for the last 90 years. To say the O'Tooles are a fixture at Essex Fells is an understatement. Brian's grandfather began working at the club in the 1930s. Brian's uncle, Augie LeMaire, began his lengthy tenure in 1943, serving as Locker Room Manager for four decades. Brian's brothers, Frank and Danny, continued to make Essex Fells a family affair, also working in the locker room, Frank for 33 years.

From caddie yard to locker room, Brian faithfully and dutifully served the membership of Essex Fells for 49 years, rising to the position of Caddie Master in 1984 and Outside Operations Manager in 2017. There is hardly a member at The Fells who can remember a time when Brian was not the first person to greet them when they arrived at the club.

In an era when people are likely to have a dozen or so employers during their working years, the fact that Brian O'Toole's resume only lists Essex Fells speaks not only to the love he has for the club and its members, but also his love for the game of golf. Brian became a true "golf addict," playing as much golf as he could after work and on his days off. Golf for Brian became more than a job, much more than a career. It became a passion, a passion fueled by the relationships he formed with every golf professional, every staff member, every general manager, every grounds crew member, and most importantly, every member at Essex Fells.

Brian Gaffney, PGA, Head Golf Professional at Essex Fells and O'Toole's long-time colleague remarked, "Never one to shrug off the hard or dirty work, Brian was always there just 'taking care of it.' He added value to the operation as he knew the genesis behind the decisions made and why things were the way they were. He will surely be missed but all of us are happy he will be able to relax, spend time with family, and finally play more golf!"

Brian's work at Essex Fells was certainly multi-faceted, but the aspect of his job that he enjoyed the most was mentoring his caddies. As Brian noted, he quietly observed the "gradual transformation from boy to man" that each caddie made under his careful tutelage. Over the years, Brian was boss, teacher, and mentor to countless caddies who "looped" at The Fells. As Brian remarked, "all learned something as they came through the yard, whether it was interpersonal skills, maturity, time management, responsibility, or a work ethic." For Brian, the time spent mentoring his caddies was both fun and rewarding.

"It is hard to fathom the lives Brian O'Toole has touched at Essex Fells," remarked Dan Pasternak, PGA, General Manager. In addition to dutifully serving the members of Essex Fells, Brian will most be remembered for the numerous caddies he mentored and helped receive the NJSGA Caddie Scholarship. "Quietly and without fanfare, Brian has been instrumental in helping to raise hundreds of thousands of dollars in scholarship contributions, facilitating the education of caddies throughout the state who have gone on to become doctors, lawyers, and business leaders," Pasternak wrote in a letter to Essex Fells' membership announcing Brian's retirement.

Reflecting upon the many lives he touched, Brian recalled one young man whose father worked in the locker room, who approached Brian to become a caddie. Both the young man and his father spoke broken English. Brian took the young man into his charge, teaching, mentoring, and encouraging him to work hard, not only on the golf course, but also, more importantly, in school. Brian guided him through the Caddie Scholarship application process and was thrilled to learn that not only was he admitted to a college, but he was also selected to receive a Caddie Scholarship. Today that man, whose identity Brian kept to himself, is an executive with an accounting firm in Dallas, Texas. He is but one of many success stories Brian helped author over the last five decades.

Brian is a true family man, dedicated to both his Essex Fells family and his own family. Such dedication is what most significantly influenced his decision to retire. Brian did not plan on "taking early retirement," as he considers it, although most would hardly regard retirement after five decades as “early,” but Brian feels he needs to spend more time tending to his mother’s care. Brian shared that his mother lives in a memory care unit at an assisted living facility in Florida. The long days that Brian logged for so many years prevented him from being as actively involved in his mother’s care as he would have like to have been, so he will join his sister in caring for his mother.

When asked what he will miss the most about no longer working at Essex Fells, Brian quickly answered, “the great members and employees of the club, who have become true friends over the years, and all the caddies who add so much to the golf experience at Essex Fells.”

Brian and his wife, Laura, plan to relocate permanently to Florida, but they will make frequent trips back to New Jersey to visit friends and spend time with their son, Jack, a former Essex Fells caddie, who has now embarked upon his professional career in the financial services industry. This summer, Brian and his brother will travel to California on a baseball and golf junket, going to baseball games and playing some West Coast golf. Brian hopes that retirement will afford him the opportunity to work on his golf game and get his handicap back to where it was 20 years ago.

On the evening of Saturday, November 26, 2022, members of Essex Fells gathered in the Grille Room to celebrate Brian’s distinguished career and to honor his many years of dedicated service. Addressing those who gathered at the celebration, Essex Fells’ General Manager, Dan Pasternak, PGA said, “Brian and the O’Toole Family are an important part of the history of Essex Fells Country Club. We are a better club for his service, dedication, and loyalty.”

Brian truly loved Essex Fells and, without a doubt, the membership of Essex Fells loved him.

In grateful appreciation of his five decades of service to Essex Fells and his remarkable commitment to providing educational opportunities to the caddies at the club, Essex Fells has established the Brian O’Toole Scholarship. This scholarship, which the Caddie Scholarship Foundation will award annually to a caddie from Essex Fells, will recognize the hard work and determination of an Essex Fells caddie and will honor Brian’s long-standing support of the Foundation, his commitment to youth caddying, and his unwavering loyalty to Essex Fells Country Club.

Patrick Conforti, President of Essex Fells Country Club, stated, “Our Club is the club it is today thanks in large part to Brian O’Toole’s efforts throughout his distinguished career. His passion for the caddie program was evident in everything he did. He was far more than a Caddie Master; he was a true friend and mentor to many ‘loopers’ throughout the years. While we will miss him as he begins his well-deserved retirement, he will forever be connected to the caddie program at Essex Fells through the Brian O’Toole Caddie Scholarship. Nothing seems more appropriate than to honor Brian’s efforts in service to our membership and caddies than to establish this scholarship, which recognizes those young men and women who embody Brian’s commitment, dedication, and loyalty to Essex Fells.”

Joining with others that evening in announcing the scholarship in Brian’s honor, Bill Frese, past President of the NJSGA and an Essex Fells member, noted that Brian, throughout his career, has annually been one of the most generous individual contributors to the Caddie Scholarship Foundation. Continuing, Bill noted that during his career Brian “personally advised, counseled and mentored more than 100 Essex Fells caddies who received CSF scholarships, many of which were truly life-changing for the recipients.”

When asked how he felt when he learned that the club had created the scholarship in his name, Brian simply said, “surprised and emotional.” He struggled to express his heartfelt appreciation to those gathered at the celebration when the announcement was made because was so choked up. Brian recalled, “I couldn’t wait to tell my wife and my mom about the scholarship. What an honor! Essex Fells is a great family club, and it was my privilege to have served the club for so many years.”

The New Jersey State Golf Association and the Caddie Scholarship Foundation wish Brian a long, happy, and healthy retirement and sincerely thank him for his countless contributions to the game of golf and for constantly striving to “keep the caddie in golf.”

Best of luck, Brian! We hope you hit them straight and long and that all your putts are true.

Ava Geissel is a junior pursuing a double major in Finance and Management at Seton Hall University's Stillman School of Business. She is also a member of the University's highly selective Buccino Leadership Institute. Following graduation, Ava intends to pursue a career in finance.

While attending Freehold Township High School, Ava was a member of the Varsity Golf Team. Since the school didn't have a girls team, Ava played on the boys team. One afternoon, while practicing at the team's home course, Charleston Springs, with her twin brother, William, also a caddie, the caddie manager at Metedeconk National Golf Club approached her and asked her if she had ever heard of Metedeconk National and if she had any interest in becoming a caddie. He then invited Ava and her brother to join him for a round of golf. "I was so nervous I could barely tee up my ball on the first tee box," recalled Ava. By the end of the round, Ava had made such a strong impression that she was invited to visit Metedeconk the next day. "Metedeconk National is the most beautiful golf course I have ever seen," said Ava. Ava certainly will never forget her first visit to Metedeconk and the opportunity she was given to become a caddie. She finds it hard to believe, but she has caddied for the last five years and is beyond grateful for the opportunities it has given her.

Besides spending summer days on the picturesque links of Metedeconk National, Ava finds her favorite aspect of caddying to be the people she has met and the conversations she has shared with them during their rounds. "As a finance major in a business school, I know how important it is to be able to network. Caddying has been a huge outlet for me to meet people of all different backgrounds and industries. Since becoming a caddie, I have built relationships with members at Metedeconk who mentor and inspire me."

For Ava, Metedeconk is more than a golf club. It is more than the place where she works. It has become a second classroom, where she has learned not to be afraid of taking chances, to try something different and new, and to be open to and accepting of new opportunities. "When I was first a caddie, I doubted myself and my abilities, as I had never caddied before or even been to a private golf club, but I recognized that this was an amazing opportunity and I took the chance," Ava said, reflecting upon her early days as a caddie. "I couldn't be more grateful that I was offered the job and more proud of myself that I took the risk. Caddying has affected my life in more ways than I could ever imagine."

It has taught me never to doubt myself or let fear hold me back from trying new things.”

The members at Metedeconk are the primary reason why Ava returns to caddie every season. She looks forward to catching up with the members, telling them about her year at school and hearing about their off-seasons. “Being a caddie is not always easy. It can be challenging and exhausting at times, especially in the heat and rain; however, it is rewarding in so many ways,” said Ava, who noted that caddying has helped her improve her life skills, most notably her communication skills.

Ava strongly encourages anyone in high school to become a caddie because of the positive impact it will have upon their life now and for years to come. She is truly grateful for the opportunities she has been provided through caddying and golf. One such amazing opportunity that she would never have had if she didn’t go beyond her comfort zone, expand her horizons, and try something new was caddying in the LPGA ShopRite Classic Pro-Am at the Bay Course at Seaview in Galloway, New Jersey in June 2022.

Ava is just one of nearly 160 Caddie Scholars who received scholarships from the New Jersey State Golf Association’s Caddie Scholarship Foundation for the 2022-2023 academic year. Caddie Scholars attended 86 colleges and universities across the country during the 2022-2023 academic year. They were on campuses from Piscataway, New Jersey to San Diego, California, pursuing a variety of majors, excelling academically, engaging in campus life, and preparing themselves to make a difference in world that awaits them after graduation.

Ava takes great pride in being a Caddie Scholar, something she regards as a true point of personal distinction. “I am very grateful to have an outstanding association like the New Jersey State Golf Association supporting me through my college education. It is meaningful to know that the people of the Caddie Scholarship Foundation believe in me and my ability to be successful in college and beyond,” said Ava, who looks forward to giving back to the Foundation and supporting future generations of Caddie Scholars.

The scholarship Ava has received is not only inspirational and transformative, it also has eased the financial burden of her college education. “My twin brother and I entered college in the Fall of 2020, six months after the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic, which created a significant financial hardship for my parents,” said Ava. “When my brother, who also caddies at Metedeconk and attends Stevens Institute of Technology, and I received the Caddie Scholarship, my parents were both proud and relieved at the same time because thanks to the generosity of the Caddie Scholarship Foundation and its benefactors, the financial burden of our college tuitions was significantly lessened.”

The Caddie Scholarship Foundation is proud to count Ava Geissel among one of its outstanding scholars. We celebrate her accomplishments and thank all our benefactors for preserving one of golf’s greatest traditions by “keeping the caddie in golf.”

Caddying at Metedeconk National

Thank you for selecting me to receive the New Jersey State Golf Association Caddie Scholarship. The college application and decision process brought out emotions that I never knew could be felt. From confusion to frustration, when it came to making that pivotal final decision, money was a relentless factor in determining my future as well as my whereabouts in approximately the next four to five years. With your help, I feel that I am able to breathe a little deeper and be more at ease.

Your generosity has single-handedly rewritten my future and I'm not sure of what more I could do to express my gratitude for your support.

Ever since my first day as a caddie, caddying has not only brought recurring excitement and thrill, but variety, which has opened more doors than I could ever imagine. As many can agree, everyone has bad days, but it's those small moments that make you come back the next day smiling. The intricacies of caddying leads me to believe that it's an art in itself, where it is merely impossible to master all sectors of the position. Over the years, caddying has become a lifestyle and the relationship I've built with this craft makes me a proud and honored recipient of the New Jersey State Golf Association Caddie Scholarship.

Thank you for your support. The foundation you have furnished allowed me to begin construction on whatever I can envision. Thank you for your kindheartedness and generosity.

I am honored to be a recipient of the Caddie Scholarship and would like to express my sincere appreciation for your continued support of students who are in financial need.

I am a Junior majoring in Medical Diagnostics and I hope to one day work in an Emergency Department providing care to trauma patients. At some point, I may want to work in the field of Orthopedics. I am currently volunteering at the Rockaway Township Fire and Rescue as a Firefighter and EMT. I also volunteer as a firefighter and am employed as an EMT.

This scholarship has afforded me the opportunity to look ahead to a Master's program and will play a key role in shaping me into a person who can contribute to the community. Donors like you make life brighter for us and I can only hope that one day, I too can pay it forward and bring a smile to another needy student.

I want to take this opportunity to thank the New Jersey State Golf Association for granting me a Caddie Scholarship. As a caddie not only have I learned about the game of golf, but it has also taught me so much about people. I genuinely believe my experience as a caddie has placed me in a much better position to succeed at The Ohio State University.

As a caddie and active golfer, I believe very strongly in the work done by the NJSGA and I intend to "pay it forward" for many years to come by providing my support to the NJSGA. On behalf of my family, thank you again for granting me this scholarship.

I want to thank the New Jersey State Golf Association and every member at Upper Montclair Country Club for their generosity in supporting the Caddie Scholarship Program. I was very pleased, appreciative, and happy to learn that I was selected to receive this scholarship. I am currently a Freshman at Montclair State University, majoring in Computer Science with a concentration in Cyber Security.

I am grateful to be a part of the Upper Montclair Caddie Family. I enjoyed my summer days at Upper Montclair, caddying next to my dad, Juan, and my grandfather, Jose. It is an experience I can't explain. I cannot thank the members at Upper Montclair for constantly encouraging me to pursue my dreams. I also want to thank, in a special way, my bosses, Mark and Sherif.

This scholarship has reduced the financial burden of my education, which allows me to focus more on my schoolwork and not worry so much about how I am going to pay for school. I hope that one day I will be able to help caddies achieve their goals of a college education by assisting them in the same way you are helping me.

Like many golfers, Vincent DiGiano's love of the game of golf can be traced back to his days as a caddie. Growing up in Cranford, New Jersey, DiGiano spent his summers caddying at Echo Lake Country Club and Shackamaxon Country Club. Encouraged by his father, a high school teacher and golfer, DiGiano approached Marty Crown, caddie manager at Echo Lake, and asked him if he could become a caddie. When DiGiano first arrived at the caddie yard, he was a shy and timid teenager, but that would soon change as caddying quickly introduced him to a variety of people with a wide array of personalities and golf games. The once quiet teenager, DiGiano quickly became an outgoing young adult, capable of engaging anyone in conversation and interacting with diverse people, a life skill that would serve him well long after his days looping ended.

Looking back upon his days as a caddie during his high school and college years, DiGiano is filled with nostalgia, but as a rookie caddie, he remembered how much he hated it at first. He hated waiting around the caddie yard for a loop. Sometimes he would go days in between loops, but he was determined and soon those hours of waiting translated into steady rounds with regular members. He proved his merit on the bag and word spread throughout the club's membership of DiGiano's ability to accurately estimate yardages long before the advent of range finders and to adeptly read the contours of the most vexing greens.

Through caddying DiGiano's love of golf grew. He was able to play golf on Mondays at Echo Lake and at other clubs where his friends caddied. This undoubtedly aided him considerably when playing on Cranford High School's golf team and helped him maintain a 3 handicap. As DiGiano said, "the caddie yard and the golf course were interesting places to learn about life." He found caddying to be "aspirational." It showed him what he wanted out of life and golf. He wanted to make golf a part of his life and set a goal to become a member at a private club so he could experience club life "from the other side of the bag."

When the time came for DiGiano to choose a college, his love of golf drew him to Arizona State University. While in high school, he participated in summer instructional programs conducted by members of the university's golf team including future golf legend, Phil Mickelson, who was playing for the Sun Devils at the time.

A recipient of a Caddie Scholarship, DiGiano recalls that not only was the scholarship the only aid he received to attend college, but that it was a "modest scholarship with a significant impact upon his life." In total the scholarship amounted to about 20% of his tuition at Arizona

State, which when coupled with the income from jobs at a golf club and driving range near campus, ensured that he would not be saddled with crushing college loan debt, something for which he is truly grateful considering the debt burden carried by many of today's recent college graduates.

DiGiano embarked upon a career in public accounting, rising through the ranks of Arthur Andersen and earning an MBA from the University of Texas at Austin, but golf always remained central to his life. He became a member of Suburban Golf Club in Union, New Jersey, where he won the club championship in 2005. He competed in New York and New Jersey for several years, playing in numerous mid-amateurs and amateurs until he and his wife, Jennifer, relocated to Oregon in 2011.

Now an active member and competitive player at Waverley Country Club in Portland, Oregon, DiGiano left the day to day work world behind him when his daughter, Piper, was born. DiGiano spends his days being a great father and ensuring that his daughter has everything she needs to be successful in life, including the encouragement to become a caddie when she is older.

DiGiano is committed to giving back to the game that has given him so much. Since his graduation from Arizona State, DiGiano has been a loyal and generous donor to the Caddie Scholarship Foundation, making annual gifts that at least match the scholarship he received. While he considers himself to be very lucky, DiGiano believes that through true "Jersey grit and determination" we make our own luck and because of the luck he created, he gives generously of his time, talent, and treasure to ensure that today's caddies have access to the same mentorship and educational opportunities he had.

As a member of the City of Portland's Golf Advisory Committee, serving two three-year terms, DiGiano witnessed and supported the growth of youth caddie programs at the city's public golf courses. The caddies who have participated in these programs have distinguished themselves academically and in service to the game of golf. Their efforts have been rewarded with scholarships from the Western Golf Association's Evans Scholars Foundation.

Waverley Country Club boasts an extensive youth caddie program, making DiGiano feel truly at home and reminding him of his younger days at Echo Lake and Shackamaxon. His membership enables him to give back by helping the caddies grow as young men and women. DiGiano explained how he will take a young caddie into his charge and show him “the basics” during a relaxing and fun round. If the caddie shows strong aptitude and interest, he’ll take the caddie out for another round. During the subsequent rounds, conversations about school, home, life, goals, and the future take place. If the caddie sticks with it, DiGiano sticks with the caddie and the caddie becomes one of his regulars. DiGiano states, “it is the responsibility of us as golfers to help caddies become not only better caddies through on-course education, but also to help them become better people by supporting and encouraging them to seek success in life.”

While DiGiano doesn’t share many of his stories from his days in the caddie yard with his caddies at Waverley, he continuously reminds them that perseverance and stick-to-it-tiveness are the keys to success in anything they hope to achieve. He tells his caddies that they have to “pay their dues” both as caddies and in the “real world” and that they have to work hard in order to prove themselves to others. “We become better at anything in life through a commitment to continual improvement,” said DiGiano, who believes that life’s most important lessons are “acquired, not taught.”

DiGiano advises caddies today to persevere and stick with it until you break through, advice applicable not just to caddying but also to life in general. As he bluntly, yet succinctly stated, “As a caddie, if you show up, shut up, keep up, and have a willingness and openness to learn, not only will you become a successful caddie, but you will be successful in life as well.”

Thank you, Vincent, for your generous and loyal support of the Caddie Scholarship Foundation and for all that you have done and continue to do to “keep the caddie in golf.”
